Purpose & Background

Over the last 20 years, numerous courageous survivors have spoken their truth and brought lawsuits related to the sexual abuse of children in the Catholic Church in Illinois. Survivors became plaintiffs in civil lawsuits and together with their attorneys were able to reveal secret church records using the civil litigation process. These lawsuits resulted in the release of identities and histories of sexually abusive individuals and the release of documents and records reflecting the knowledge of institutions that covered up the sexual abuse.

The Anderson Report on Child Sexual Abuse in the Archdiocese and Dioceses in Illinois contains the names of clerics, religious employees and seminarians associated with Catholic Dioceses in the State of Illinois, including those who were assigned within or working in Illinois, who have been accused of sexual misconduct with minors. These dioceses include the Archdiocese of Chicago and Dioceses of Belleville, Joliet, Peoria, Rockford and Springfield. The information in this Anderson Report is derived from publicly available sources, claims made by survivors to the dioceses and religious orders responsible for the offenders, and legal settlements made as a result of claims for child sexual abuse. While lawsuits were filed involving many of these alleged perpetrators, the vast majority of the claims against these individuals have been settled or have not been fully evaluated in a civil or criminal court. Accordingly, in most cases the allegations have not been proved or substantiated in a court of law. Consequently, unless otherwise indicated, all of the allegations should be considered just allegations and should not be considered proven or substantiated in a court of law. In some situations, the statute of limitations has expired preventing the merits of the allegations from being considered by a court of law.

It is believed that the Dioceses in Illinois have not publicly made available the full histories and their knowledge of their sexually abusive agents and employees. The Anderson Report on Child Sexual Abuse in the Archdiocese and Dioceses in Illinois is intended to raise awareness about the important issue of sexual abuse, provide the public with vital information including assignment histories, and provide awareness and healing to survivors of sexual abuse. Assignment histories are approximations and were compiled from the Official Catholic Directory, bishopaccountability.org, statements attributed to Diocesan and Religious officials, Diocesan and Religious records, and media reports.

Jeff Anderson & Associates, P.A.
Supporting Illinois Abuse Survivors for Decades

In most cases, childhood sexual abuse goes unreported or victims/survivors break their silence many years after the abuse occurs. While there are many legal barriers to prosecuting those responsible for the abuse, our firm has worked to overcome these barriers for more than 30 years. As pioneers of child protection through civil litigation, we are aggressively committed to this cause and capable of handling the most complex legal issues in courts across the United States.

We are smart, tough and relentless, but the virtue that ultimately sets us apart is our compassion. We are people who feel deeply and work tirelessly in response to an unjust world. We have a reputation for being the best at what we do and that begins and ends with our ability to support, protect and guide survivors along their journey toward justice and healing. As sexual abuse lawyers, we have represented thousands of survivors of child sexual abuse against individual offenders and the institutions that harbor these offenders. We are engaged with a national network of attorneys who share our mission, and when we take a case, we exhaust every imaginable resource in order to serve our clients’ needs.

Since 2001, Jeff Anderson & Associates, in partnership with Frost Pearlman, have advocated for survivors’ rights in Illinois and represented hundreds of Illinois survivors. In addition to seeking legal accountability, Jeff Anderson & Associates uses novel legal theories, including public nuisance, to help prevent child sexual abuse and bring awareness to child sexual abuse across the country.

Child Sexual Abuse in the Archdiocese and Dioceses in Illinois

The Anderson Report on Child Sexual Abuse in the Archdiocese and Dioceses in Illinois is intended to be a chronology and analysis of the sexual abuse of children in Catholic institutions within the State of Illinois, including a discussion of how the highest Diocesan and Religious officials enabled the abusers and covered up crimes of sexual misconduct and abuse.

The data reveal the horrifying scale of priests sexually assaulting minors to the present day. The data collected illustrate the patterns and practices of Diocesan and Religious officials, including orchestrating an institutional cover-up of enormous magnitude. Perhaps most shocking among the discoveries is that some perpetrators were intentionally transferred and retained in trusted positions with direct access to children even after they were known to sexually abuse children. Modern means of analysis and availability of data through the Internet, social media, and public information is exposing perpetrators who operated in these Dioceses, but until full transparency and accountability exist, children remain in grave danger.

Historically, the Archdiocese and Dioceses in Illinois, like many other archdioceses and dioceses, knew of predator priests who posed a significant danger to children. The sexual abuse of children has long been a crime in Illinois. However, Diocesan and Religious Order officials chose and continue to keep these crimes hidden, allowing their priests continued and unfettered access to children. During the 1980s and 1990s, occasional bits of information about abuse within Catholic institutions surfaced, but the Catholic Church’s strict policy of secrecy kept important information and the full extent of the problem hidden from the public. This has continued despite mandated reporting laws.

Religious Clergy and Lay Persons in Illinois

There are two types of clergy identified in The Anderson Report on Child Sexual Abuse in the Archdiocese and Dioceses in Illinois. Diocesan clergy work in territorial divisions or “Dioceses” and answer to a bishop who is granted authority by the Pope. Religious clergy are professed members of Orders. They are not tied to geographical areas and instead receive faculties from the bishop in the territory in which they work. Also included in the Anderson Report are lay persons who worked in Catholic institutions. These lay persons include seminarians, teachers and coaches.
2018 Preliminary Findings of the Investigation into Catholic Clergy Sexual Abuse of Minors in Illinois

In 2018, the State of Illinois Office of the Attorney General released preliminary findings of its investigation into Catholic Clergy sexual abuse. During the first 4 months of the investigation, the Office of Attorney General found:

- The scope of the problem of clergy sexual abuse of minors in Illinois is significantly more extensive than the Illinois Dioceses have reported;
- Illinois Dioceses disregarded survivors and failed to investigate allegations of clergy sexual abuse;
- Increased transparency is necessary for accountability and healing;
- The processes and practices put in place by the Illinois Dioceses to respond to clergy sexual abuse are flawed;
- The investigatory processes deployed by the Illinois Dioceses fail to prioritize the survivor and provide healing; and
- Illinois Dioceses will not resolve the clergy sexual abuse crisis on their own.

The Office of Attorney General’s review determined that the Illinois Dioceses had received allegations related to sexual abuse for approximately 690 clergy, but had only publicly identified 185 clergy as being “credibly” accused of sexual abuse.

Jeff Anderson & Associates believes that there are likely hundreds of alleged perpetrators within the Dioceses and religious orders in Illinois whose names have never been made public. The fight for information and the names of those alleged perpetrators continues.

The Danger of Sexual Abuse in the Catholic Church of Illinois Today

The danger of sexual abuse in Illinois is clearly a problem of today, not just the past. This will continue to be a danger until the identities and histories of sexually abusive clerics, religious employees and seminarians are made public.

Bogdan became a high-ranking priest and worked as a Judicial Vicar in both the Archdiocese of Chicago and the Diocese of Kalamazoo. After he retired in 2000, Fr. At around the same time, Fr. Bogdan was given the honorary title of Monsignor by Pope John Paul II. In 2006, the Archdiocese of Chicago named Fr. Fr. Raymond Lukac

Notes: Fr. Raymond Lukac had been a priest for less than one year before accusations of sexual abuse and misconduct surfaced. The first documentation shows the Chancellor of the Diocese of Greensburg, Cyril Vogel, met with Fr. Lukac in 1984 regarding numerous reports and letters from parishioners of St. Cyril and Methodius, complaining that Fr. Lukac appeared to be romantically involved with an 18-year-old organist for the parish. Following the allegations, Fr. Lukac was transferred to Holy Trinity parish, where he was dismissed due to his 18-year-old girl. It was later discovered and reported to the Diocese of Greensburg that Fr. Lukac had impregnated the girl and married her immediately when she turned 18-years-old. A few years later, in 1997, the Bishop of the Diocese of Gary, Andrew Grulka, granted Fr. Lukac admission into his diocese on a trial basis. Fr. Lukac was allowed to teach at Bishop Noll Institute, a high school in Hammond, Indiana. Following more concerns over his behavior with girls, Fr. Lukac was removed from the Diocese of Gary. Afterwards, he moved to and worked in an unofficial capacity at St. Stanislaus in Posen, Illinois. When the Bishop of Greensburg, William Connare, could find a new diocese that would accept him, after asking many dioceses, the Bishop of the Diocese of Wheeling-Charleston, Joseph Hodges, agreed to take Fr. Lukac. After a short time in the Wheeling Diocese, Fr. Lukac was removed from a high school after being “rather strong in his language in a talk to some of the high school students.” Following the removal, Fr. Lukac was assigned a position as chaplain in the Veterans Administration Service, where it is unknown how long he worked. In 2006, the Archdiocese of Chicago requested information from the Diocese of Greensburg after receiving a complaint that Fr. Lukac had sexually abused a minor during his time in the Chicago Archdiocese. According to the complaint, Fr. Lukac had sexually abused an 18-year-old girl in the St. Stanislaus rectory sometime between 1983 and 1984. Six years later, in 2012, another allegation was made against Fr. Lukac, claiming he had sexually abused a girl while serving in the Diocese of Gary between 1983 and 1964. Fr. Lukac’s status as a priest, his whereabouts and whether he had access to children between 1963 and 2003 are unknown.

Kurz is believed to have worked at St. Victor in Calumet City in the Diocese of Chicago from 1995 to 1997. In 2006, Msgr. Kurz was named in a lawsuit, alleging he was sexually abused by a boy attending Christ the King in Pueblo, Colorado. The abuse allegedly began in approximately 1975 and continued for a couple of years. Following the allegation, the Diocesan Review Board conducted an investigation and determined the allegation to be unfounded and false. No punitive action was taken against Msgr. Kurz. Fr. Kenneth Lewis

Notes: Three years after his ordination in the Diocese of Tulsa, Fr. Kenneth Lewis was sent to a treatment center after he was accused of inappropriate behavior with several boys. Following treatment, Bishop Skelley allowed him to return to work at a different parish within the Diocese of Tulsa. In 2002, the allegations against Fr. Lewis were made public. He retired shortly thereafter. News reports stated that at least six boys came forward accusing Fr. Lewis of sexual abuse. It was also reported that multiple Church officials had been aware of Fr. Lewis’ inappropriate behavior with boys and that two investigations were conducted, one in 1994 and the other in the summer of 2002, but no action was taken against Fr. Lewis. No criminal charges were brought against Fr. Lewis concerning the six accusations due to the statute of limitations. In 2003, a boy filed a police report, alleging Fr. Lewis had sexually abused their son, then 15 years old, during a trip to Chicago. The case was referred to Evanston, IL, police, who decided not to pursue charges; however, a civil case was filed in 2007 and settled in 2011. In 2007, a Chicago diocesan representative made the case against Fr. Lewis and, nearly a decade and a half after the abuse occurred, Fr. Lewis was criminally charged in late 2017. Fr. Lewis was not immediately taken into custody because he had been living in Ecuador. In late March of 2018, U.S. law enforcement officials were alerted when Fr. Lewis bought a plane ticket from Ecuador to Atlanta. Lewis was taken to Chicago where he was charged with felony predatory criminal sexual assault of a child. It is believed Lewis is free on bail. His current whereabouts and whether he has access to children from 1994 until his death are unknown.

Fr. Vincent E. McCaffrey

Notes: Fr. McCaffrey was convicted of possessing child pornography in 2002 and sentenced to 20 years in prison. Investigators claimed to have discovered more than 4,000 images of child pornography in Fr. McCaffrey’s home. During the trial, Fr. McCaffrey admitted under oath that he sexually abused some of the boys in his care. Prosecutors estimate the number of victims to be as high as 100. One boy who Fr. McCaffrey admitted to sexually abusing claimed he was sexually abused over 200 times. Other victims alleged Fr. McCaffrey issued physical threats and sadistically abused them.

The Archdiocese of Chicago claimed to have been made aware of Fr. McCaffrey’s sexual abuse in 1987, four years before he was removed, but during his trial, Fr. McCaffrey testified that the Archdiocese ordered him to be hospitalized in 1980 due to his sexual abuse. Since Fr. McCaffrey was jailed in 2002, the Archdiocese has settled with as many as five individuals who claim to have been sexually abused by Fr. McCaffrey. Fr. McCaffrey is listed on the Archdiocese of Chicago’s list of clergy with substantiated allegations of sexual misconduct with minors. Fr. McCaffrey’s whereabouts and whether he has had access to children since 1996 are unknown.

Fr. Robert E. Mayer

Notes: Fr. Robert E. Mayer was first accused of sexual abuse in 1982 when a mother filed a lawsuit alleging Fr. Mayer had exposed himself to and attempted to undress and molest her 15-year-old son and at least one other St. Edna’s altar boy on an outing to Fox Lake, Illinois. The lawsuit was settled in 1985. The mother who filed the lawsuit alleged that two of the boys who were allegedly sexually abused eventually died by suicide. The initial lawsuit and subsequent settlement were kept secret by the Archdiocese while Fr. Mayer was transferred to three different parishes.

In 1991, Fr. Mayer left his assignment at St. Odilia for “personal reasons.” It wasn’t until a few months later that the truth was disclosed to the parishioners of St. Odilia. Fr. Mayer had a history of alleged sexual abuse. He reportedly had been removed from St. Odilia for making sexual advances to parish boys and engaging in sexual misconduct with a 20-year-old man. Following the disclosure, a 15-year-old girl came forward alleging she was sexually abused by Fr. Mayer. In connection with the girl’s allegations, Fr. Mayer was indicted on four counts of aggravated criminal sexual abuse, convicted, and sentenced to 5 years in jail. Since then, Fr. Mayer has been accused by at least another six individuals and has been involved in at least two settlements. Fr. Mayer is included on the Archdiocese of Chicago’s list of clergy with substantiated allegations of sexual misconduct with minors. He was believed to be residing in Lake Villa, Illinois as of 1996. Fr. Mayer’s precise whereabouts and whether he has had access to children from approximately 1991 to present are unknown.

Fr. Lawrence Gibbney
Notes: Before Fr. Gibbney was even ordained a priest, Fr. Gibbney had been labeled a “source of scandal” at parishes, and it is believed that even Bishop Blanchette’s own Seminary Board recommended that Gibbney not be ordained. Fr. Gibbney was, nonetheless, ordained in 1973. In 1979, police conducted an investigation into allegations that Fr. Gibbney sexually abused children while assigned to Christ the King Church in Lombard, Illinois. Although the police found no evidence of grooming, parishioners continued to send complaints regarding Fr. Gibbney’s conduct with boys. Bishop Imesch ultimately transferred Fr. Gibbney to St. Joseph Church in Lockport, where he was placed in charge of the altar boys training program. Fr. Gibbney was allowed to continue working until he was placed on leave in 1992. In early 1993, the first lawsuit was filed against Fr. Gibbney. The plaintiff alleged that Fr. Gibbney sexually abused him dozens of times for seven years. Fr. Gibbney was included on the Diocese of Joliet’s list of “Diocesan Priests with Substantiated Allegation(s) of Sexual Abuse of Minors Made Against Them While Serving in the Diocese of Joliet” with “Substantiated Allegations.” In total, more than five lawsuits have been filed naming Fr. Gibbney, and some reports claim he may have abused more than 100 boys. Fr. Gibbney has been named on the Diocese of Joliet’s list of “Diocesan Priests with Substantiated Allegation(s) of Sexual Misconduct with Minors Made Against Them While Serving in the Diocese of Joliet” with “Substantiated Allegations.” According to the Diocese of Joliet, Fr. Gibbney was removed from ministry in 1992. Fr. Gibbney’s whereabouts, status as a priest and whether he has had access to children since 1992 are unknown.

Notes: According to Fr. Formusa’s personal file, Bishop Romeo Blanchette was aware of Fr. Formusa’s alleged sexual abuse of young girls as early as 1962. It wasn’t until 1968, after being accused of sexual misconduct with a 16-year-old, that Fr. Formusa was temporarily removed and placed on sick leave. Approximately eight years later in 1976, Bishop Romeo Blanchette ordered Fr. Formusa to resign from his parish and his ministry and arrest after he tried to meet with a 14-year-old boy, who turned out to be an undercover detective, for a sexual encounter. Fr. Formusa was sentenced to 15 years in prison, 12 years of extended supervision, and 10 years of probation. As of 2003, he was living in a Chicago condominium which also housed a day care facility but has since been moved to a hospice following an illness.
Fr. William Graham

Notes: Fr. William C. Graham was ordained for the Diocese of Duluth in 1978. He served as a Professor of Theology at Lewis University in Romeoville, Illinois, from 2000 to 2005. In a 2012 lawsuit, Fr. Graham was accused of sexually abusing a 55-year-old boy in 1977 to 1978 at St. Benedict's in Duluth, Minnesota. The Diocese of Duluth placed Fr. Graham on leave in 2012, and in 2015, the Diocese of Duluth removed him from ministry. Court action was taken. Following the 2016 lawsuit, Fr. Graham denied the allegation and filed a counterclaim against the survivor. In 2018, the Diocese of Duluth found the allegations of child sexual abuse against Fr. Graham to be credible. In 2018, a jury ruled that the survivor interfered with Fr. Graham’s contractual duties when he filed a lawsuit against Fr. Graham, but did not intentionally inflict emotional distress upon Fr. Graham. Fr. Graham is on the Diocese of Duluth’s list of “priests with credible claims against them concerning sexual abuse of a young person.” According to the Diocese of Duluth, Fr. Graham has been removed from ministry and his faculties have been revoked. Fr. Graham’s current whereabouts, status as a priest, and whether he has access to children are unknown.

Fr. Donald G. O’Connor

Notes: Fr. Donald G. O’Connor was ordained a priest for the Diocese of Joliet in 1964. Reportedly, concerns about the mental health of Fr. O’Connor first surfaced when he was a seminary student. Fr. John Duggan, S.J.

Notes: Fr. John Duggan, S.J. is a Jesuit priest who worked in Illinois, New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, New Jersey, and Nigeria. After nearly four decades in the priesthood, in 1993, Fr. Duggan was sent for a psychological evaluation, during which he admitted to sexually abusing young children. Following the evaluation, Bishop James C. Timlin, then-Bishop of the Diocese of Scranton, allowed Fr. Duggan to continue working under supervision. In 1996, a report was submitted to Bishop Timlin that Fr. Duggan sexually abused him in the 1970s when he was a teenager. Fr. Duggan was engaged in spiritual counseling at the Jesuit house in Scranton. Consequently, Bishop Timlin banned Fr. Duggan from parish work and restricted him to convent and prison ministry. In 1999, the same man reported that he believed Fr. Duggan was participating in unsupervised ministry. The Diocesan Review Board recommended Bishop Timlin constrain Fr. Duggan to celebration of mass and the administration of sacraments in cenotaphic facilities, nursing homes, and convents. The man contacted the Diocese again in 2002, requesting a guarantee that Fr. Duggan would not be a threat to children, causing Fr. Duggan to be removed from the Jesuit Community in Scranton. Fr. Duggan is listed in the 2005 Official Catholic Directory, but he is believed to have died in 2014.

Br. Ronald Justin Lasik, C.F.C.
Ordained: 1999

Notes: Br. Ronald Justin Lasik was convicted in 1999 by a Canadian jury of sexually abusing six boys at Mount Cashel Orphanage in St. John’s, Newfoundland and Labrador, Canada. Police and prosecutors called Br. Lasik the worst of Mount Cashel’s abusers, of which there are believed to be numerous, and a judge noted his lack of remorse and the seriousness of the abuse when she sentenced him to 10.5 years in prison. Unexpectedly, a third of the way through his prison term, Br. Lasik was released on good behavior and deported to New York in 2003. Following his deportation, Fr. Lasik went to live at a Christian Brothers residence about 100 miles north of New York City and was registered as a sex offender in New York and labeled as a high risk by the state. In 2015, Br. Lasik was accused in a civil lawsuit of sexually abusing two boys at St. Laurence High School in Chicago, Illinois.

Br. Lasik is included in the Christian Brothers’ list of “current, former and deceased brothers who were identified in at least two (2) sexual abuse claims filed as proofs of claim in the bankruptcy matter.” The list, released June 27, 2014, identifies Br. Lasik as still being a brother. His status as a brother, current whereabouts, and whether he has access to children are unknown.
