History of the Boy Scouts of America

Originating in England in the early 1900s, the idea of the Boy Scouts was exported to the United States by an Illinois newspaper man named William Boyce in 1909, after an encounter with a Boy Scout in London while traveling for business. Boyce incorporated the Boy Scouts of America in the U.S. on February 8, 1910. Today, the Boy Scouts in the United States operates as The National Council of the Boy Scouts of America, headquartered in Irving, Texas. In its 2017 Annual Report (available on the BSA website), the Boy Scouts of America reported approximately 889,000 registered adult leaders that provide support and guidance to approximately 2,283,000 youth members and Explorers registered in individual Boy Scouts programs.

Sexual Abuse in the Boy Scouts of America

Since the 1920's, the Boy Scouts of America has maintained an internal filing system of scout leaders accused of misconduct, including sexual abuse. The "Ineligible Volunteer Files" or "IV Files" constitute five categories, including sexual misconduct, also known as "perversion files". The files are created for individuals whose registration with the Boy Scouts has been revoked because of allegations of child sexual abuse. The "perversion" files illustrate the Boy Scouts of America's longstanding knowledge of child sexual abuse in scouting. Through litigation across the country, courts have ordered the public release of some of these Boy Scout files.

Jeff Anderson & Associates

In most cases, childhood sexual abuse goes unreported or victims/survivors break their silence many years after the abuse occurs. While there are many legal barriers to prosecuting those responsible for the abuse, our firm has worked to overcome these barriers for more than 30 years. As pioneers of child protection through civil litigation, we are aggressively committed to this cause and capable of handling the most complex legal issues in courts across the United States.

We are smart, tough and relentless, but the virtue that ultimately sets us apart is our compassion. We are people who feel deeply and work tirelessly in response to an unjust world. We have a reputation for being the best at what we do and that begins and ends with our ability to support, protect and guide survivors along their journey toward justice and healing. As sexual abuse lawyers, we have represented thousands of survivors of child sexual abuse against individual offenders and the institutions that harbor these offenders. We are engaged with a national network of attorneys who share our mission, and when we take a case, we exhaust every imaginable resource in order to serve our clients' needs.

Purpose and Background

The Anderson List of Sexual Abuse in the Boy Scouts in New Jersey contains the names of individuals associated with the Boy Scouts, who have been accused of sexual misconduct with minors. The information in this Anderson List is derived from publicly available sources. While lawsuits may have been filed involving some of these alleged perpetrators, the vast majority of the claims against these individuals have not been fully evaluated in a civil or criminal court. Accordingly, the allegations should not be considered proven or substantiated in a court of law. All individuals should be considered innocent until proven guilty.
